About CashBack for Communities

CashBack for Communities is a Scottish Government programme which takes funds recovered from the proceeds of crime and invests them into free activities and programmes for young people across Scotland. Inspiring Scotland is the delivery partner for the CashBack for Communities programme, appointed in July 2012.

- CashBack invests monies seized from criminals under the Proceeds of Crime Act 2002 back into our communities.
- Since 2008 the Scottish Government has committed £92 million to CashBack / community initiatives, funding community activities and facilities largely, but not exclusively, for young people.
- CashBack supports all 32 Local Authorities across Scotland.
- Sporting and recreational activities / culture / mentoring and employability / community projects.
- CashBack has delivered nearly 2 million activities and opportunities for young people.
- Phase 3 of CashBack runs to end March 2017 and is focused on positive outcomes for young people.

CashBack for Communities: Aims

CashBack activities:

- Use the proceeds of crime in a positive way to expand young people's horizons and increase their opportunities to develop their interests and skills in an enjoyable, fulfilling and supportive way.
- Are open, where possible, to all children and young people, while focusing resources in those communities suffering most from antisocial behaviour and crime.
- Seek to increase levels of participation to help divert young people away from 'at risk' behaviour, and will aim to increase the positive long-term outcomes for those who take part.

Activity number represents the number of activities and opportunities that young people have taken advantage of as a result of CashBack funding. It should be noted that CashBack partners may have worked with some of the same young people over a number of years. Therefore the total annual activity and opportunity figures might not directly correlate to the number of individual young people who have been involved with CashBack.

Historic CashBack funding (2008 -2016)

Examples of CashBack funded activities up to 2016

The Small Grants Scheme consortium has been a beneficiary of CashBack funding in North Ayrshire since 2008 and this has included supporting Girls' Brigade, Boys Brigade and Clubs for Young People activities across the area.

YouthLink Scotland, through the Youth Work Fund, has supported capacity of young people and youth work organisations. Examples in the Local Authority include Bridge Church Community Action plan, Broomlands Noonday Project, and Ardrossan Youth Society.

The CashBack for Creativity fund has supported a number of projects in the Authority including Youth Under Construction which is a Dance themed activity under the auspices of the Bridge Church Community Action project.

Prince's Trust Development Awards have been used to support a number of young people in the area including attending a wedding planner course, SIA licence, chef clothing and obtaining a CSCS license.

Basketballscotland has supported a number of clubs in the area and has also set up Ardrossan Academy as the first School of Basketball, which was officially launched by the Cabinet Secretary.

Scottish Sports Futures Jump2it programme was launched fifteen primary schools in North Ayrshire including Annick, Broomlands, Castlepark, Dreghorn, Fencedyke, Glebe and Haysholm. The coaching to each of the schools was delivered over a six week period and all schools enjoyed participating in the programme.

Scottish Rugby Union runs broad participation activities in North Ayrshire. CashBack funding is used to part-fund two full-time rugby club development officers at Ardrossan RFC and Irvine RFC as well as one part-time rugby club development officer at Garnock RFC. Ardrossan Academy and Irvine Royal Academy have been Schools of Rugby since 2012. In 2012 Ardrossan RFC were also received an award from the CashBack Rugby Facilities Fund for the redevelopment of the club's existing floodlighting. Irvine RFC was also awarded funds to add floodlighting for their training pitch.

North Ayrshire – CashBack Outcomes: Case Studies

CashBack has made a huge difference to the lives of young people. We have captured information on individual case studies for CashBack partners which demonstrate the impact delivery activities have had to those participating. These can be accessed on the CashBack website at <http://www.cashbackforcommunities.org/>

D, 42, was released early from the army with injuries which had resulted a steel plate being inserted into his forehead, a replacement knee cap and permanent open sores on one foot due to frostbite, which need consistent dressing. D had spent the last 3 years on medication for depression, medication for pain and had progressed onto smoking dope and drinking alcohol to help with the pain. D never worked since leaving the Army and recently lost his disability payments following the new assessment scheme and his wife gaining employment. He found out about the CashBack funded Link Up project after his wife saw archery advertised at the Annual Play Day in Kilmarnock. He was really keen to try archery as he could do this from the seating position. D was really happy when he came along to the adults' class with his wife; he knew some of the other participants from school days and had not realised the popularity of archery. He started slowly progressing to helping other participants with the health and safety equipment and when the opportunity arose, took part in Coach Training. D was unable to pass the multiple choice questions due to his health and nerves (he had no qualifications leaving school, was colour blind and dyslexic). The rest of the group rallied round to support D and the Archery GB assessor supported D because of his enthusiasm and recommend some extra time with him down at the Largs Club to show him another club up and running. D now coaches with adults as well as children; he is currently waiting for the maintenance course so as he can be the group's "fixer" of equipment. He has been "off the dope" since November 2012 and has lost weight and feels far better. He feels more confident that he has abilities / skills now which are more relevant to a possible employer and is applying for jobs with the help of the Link Up Worker.

Garnock Academy in North Ayrshire last year launched, through the CashBack funded Scottish Rugby referral programme, a programme to support the development of pupils in the school who are disengaged with school activities or have poor attendance and behavioural records, amongst other issues. Rugby has been used as the tool with which to engage with these pupils and redirect them to a more sustained and meaningful experience of school life. The programme includes input by rugby development officers, the school's pastoral care and student welfare departments and the campus Police Officer. There are currently nine boys participating in this programme, with views to expand this number in the future. 'Since the start of the referral programme last year, there have been significant marked changes in the pupils' attitude towards school and also their attendance. From a pupil welfare point of view this can only be classed as a good thing. Attendance within the group has also improved, the pupils express their desire to be in school so they don't miss out on the group, again, this impacts on their learning.' - Julie McCafferty – Pupil Welfare Officer
